UNITED STEELWORKERS
TOWN HALL MEETING

The most important work we do as a union involves bargaining and enforcing good contracts to secure fair wages, dependable benefits, and safe working conditions. However, whether we like it or not, workplace health and safety, wage and overtime regulations, retirement security, even our right to organize and bargain collectively, are all tied to local, state, and federal laws and the people making them.

As we move into 2020, we want to hear about the issues that matter most to you. That's why we're holding a series of town hall meetings across the country. We'll have a conversation about your priorities and share some of our union's work to impact government decisions.

Join United Steelworkers leadership, members, retirees, and families for a

'American Factory' Reaches Highest Ground With Oscar Documentary Feature Win

Reprinted in part from: deadline.com

The rustbelt rebound story "American Factory" won the Oscar for Best Documentary Feature tonight, earning gold for the first collaboration between Netflix and Barack and Michelle Obama's production company Higher Ground, which produced with Participant Media.

The Obamas' Higher Ground Productions picked up American Factory after its debut at last year's Sundance Film Festival, launching the film on Netflix as part of their deal with the streaming platform. The documentary, produced by Participant, explores what happened when a Chinese auto glass giant opened a plant on the site of a shuttered GM factory near Dayton, Ohio (the same facility seen in Bognar and Reichert's 2009 Oscar-nominated short film The Last Truck). The community's initial joy over new jobs eventually waned as conflicts arose over tough working conditions and low, non-union wages, as well as a Chinese management style that rubbed some American workers the wrong way.

Thanks Received:

"Thank you very much for the cap, jacket, and watch upon my retirement. I would also like to thank you for the many years of representation. I would also like to wish my brothers and sisters many good years to come."

In Solidarity, Kent Peterson (IPS Retiree)
